STEPS Engineering Your Future

"The free forum aspect where I could do as much as I wanted without feeling restricted to complete within a certain time made the experience much more enjoyable.

The activities were engaging and fun and made me explore subjects I haven't taken the time to discover or learn."

-Amr

"I was inspired by the information on sustainability in engineering and the steps the world is taking for the future of the planet. I also loved hearing about upcoming jobs in this field."
